

GGA Year 1 History Knowledge Organiser – The Seaside

The Seaside Through the Years

	1900's	2020's

Food	Fish and Chips Ice cream from a stall	Fish and Chips Ice cream anywhere!
Activities	Donkey rides Promenade and Pier Listening to music in the bandstand Rides at the funfair Punch and Judy Beach huts	Donkey rides Sunbathing Swim in the sea Arcade Punch and Judy Rides at the funfair Beach huts
Clothing	People go to the beach with all of their clothes on. Ladies would get changed and go in the sea in bathing machines.	People also sometimes wear wetsuits to protect their skin from the sun and the cold sea.
Travel	Working class people would travel by train and go on holiday once a year.	People now often go abroad on holiday and fly in an aeroplane to other countries.

Key Vocabulary and Definition

arcade	an indoor area containing coin operated games machines pier	a structure that is built out into the sea for people to walk along promenade	a paved public walk, typically one along the seafront at a resort bathing machine	hut on wheels in the sea so people could get changed in private beach huts	a wooden building next to or on the sea for shelter during the day travel	to make a journey usually of some length Punch and Judy	a traditional puppet show for children performed at the seaside
funfair	a fair of rides, sideshows and other amusements bandstand	a covered outdoor platform for a band to play on similar	like something but not identical different	not the same as another thing

Important People

Grace Darling
1815-1842

She was a lighthouse keeper's daughter who famously rescued ship-wrecked sailors.

Historical Vocabulary

within living memory	things that have happened that people can remember
----------------------	--

Year 1: modern, newer, older, after, more recently

Year R: older, younger, now, then, past, present, before

Why are we learning this?

So we know about what changes have happened in the past and find out what is similar and different about going to the seaside.

Why is it important?

We can make observations about what we see and make comments about it so that we can improve our skills in history.